

Dayton, Ohio, April 22, 1908.

Dear Bro. Howe:-

I believe you are to be at the W. M. A. branch meeting at Hartsville. Bro. Wm. C. Galbraith, whom you saw at the Fowlerton conference, in 1905, lives at the railway station at Rugby, and no doubt will expect you to see him. They are a bright family, but have an afflicted son whose looks are startling; but he is pious and has more intelligence than his looks would indicate. Mrs. Galbraith's sister - Mary Galbraith (married to William's cousin) lives in Hartsville, and was one of the few loyal at that place. She is a very bright woman.

I am told that there was a conflict with the second-workers at Rugby, and probably you will learn of its nature and dimensions, while there. Yours, H. Wright.
