Dear Brother:

I write you to know how it came out with Christopher Wilberforce. I do not remember any notice of his marriage, which you indicated awhile ago. Did some disappointment come in? I hope that Brother Linker's rupture may not prove as serious as was at first apprehended. Does Brother Woodard act the man, so as to maintain the dignity of the superintendency? I have confidence in Miss Winkel and in Mrs. Woodard. Is it a settled matter that Stolts expects never to return to Africa. I was glad you induced him to come to the meeting of the Board. Our pastors at College Park, somehow do not pan out very well. I had hoped that Brother Crom would add somewhat to the financiering power of the church. I think he came to the work at the very time to favor his failure. It is much better to bring in a pastor at the commencement of the fall term. ~~Before my~~ <sup>Before my</sup> sickness in April, I had been unusually well, and strong. But it took me down fifty per cent in vigor in a very short time, and I regained it very slowly. I am nearly as well as before.

I will not express my opinion upon the policy of the boards, only to say that if our bishops are wise men, the concentration on elders will work well. I want emphatically a scholar, at the head of our college. I want as little double offices as possible.

Your brother,

Milton Wright
