

P.S. Dr. H. ought to feel sick whenever in "the house that Jack built." The old dog is hard hard to break of old tricks, his old chief defenders know his rascality, but are careful that their dupes at home do not know them; and those abroad are in perfect ignorance of his true character. W. W.
