Publishing Establishment Press Fund.

Dr. H. J. Becker, $5.00.

NOTE.—Where cash letters are received containing money for other departments of church work whose headquarters and treasurers are located in Huntington, Ind., only amounts which belong to the Establishment will appear in the above list, but all amounts with distribution will be noted in the books of the office.
W. H. CLAY, Agent.

When in the city last week Dr. Becker kindly remembered the Publishing Establishment with a gift of five dollars for the Press Fund. Were every member of the church like-minded the debt would vanish like darkness driven by light.

Unreported lists of three or more subscriptions received as follows: Rev. G. E. Swartz four; Rev. S. C. Allman four; Rev. J. L. Buckwaller four; Rev. N. Allebaugh three; Rev. J. A. Caskey four; Rev. R. R. Mason three; Rev. U. S. Wertenberger three; Rev. H. E. Smith four; Rev. G. F. Hall eight; Rev. E. C. Mason five; Rev. S. E. Lane four; Rev. J. S. Moore three.

The Grace Publishing Co., Indianapolis Ind., publish the most artistic and best selections of Scripture in postage stamp style now to be found on the market. Read their advertisement and enclose ten cents addressing them for one of their "Eternal Revenue Stamp" books.

Modern Secret Societies.

By Rev. Chas. A. Blanchard, D. D.

Every pastor will welcome this book. Small enough for the pocket its concisely written pages are adapted to every busy worker and will prove a magazine of argument against the lodge. The table of contents makes easy references to points wanted on the spur of the moment. The arguments of lodgemen are cleared away; the characters of various classes of lodge systems are laid bare, and the ground of hope for successful opposition to these systems is well set forth. The book will do good. Laymen who desire to forestall the captivity of thoughtful young men should procure copies and circulate them freely.

320 pages, 4x6 cloth, postpaid 75 cents.

Address all orders to the Agent,

W. H. CLAY, = = = Huntington, Ind.

General Sabbath School Board.

This Board has money "to assist in organizing and sustaining Sabbath-schools, in such localities and upon such conditions as may be advisable." See our discipline; page 88. When aid is desired let me or Dr. Clay know what amount of Sunday-school literature is needed. New schools will be furnished gratis one quarter, and many new schools, and all winter-killed schools, ought to be commenced within the next two months. Let all our pastors and Sunday-school workers; be wide awake, to promote the Sunday-school work of the church.

D. K. FLICKINGER, Sec. S. S. Board.

Our Sunday-school workers express themselves as highly pleased with our literature. For substantial, practical, use it acknowledges no superior and but few of our people trade the church interests for a little paint found on other literature.

Changing post-office addresses is easy, but if you wish us to give heed to your request, both the old and the new addresses should be given. We then can identify your subscription on our list of postoffices and names of subscribers.

Bro. J. W. Winters of Baltimore, Ohio, ordering a Practical Commentary says, "The one I got of you last year was the best book I ever saw of the kind."

Those who have secured the ten new subscriptions within the three months are well pleased with the book "Around The World with Phillip Phillips."

When referring to any order sent us for Sunday-school literature do not mention the name of the school but the name with post-office of the person to whom it was addressed.

Brethren write us that now they are even in number of subscriptions with last year's report and they expect to make a neat increase. Good! This is worthy of encouragement.

We have a number of the Laughlin Fountain Pens on sale. While they are in stock we will send a pen post-paid for $1.00. Try it a week and if it does not write as a fountain pen should, return it and upon its receipt we will return your money.

Year Book for 1903

Contains, besides the eclipses, prominent days, approximate basis of astronomical calculations, calendar for the year and other like subjects, names and addresses of all our preachers with pastors specially designated, a compendium of United Brethren church government and principles, confession of faith, constitution, moral reform, reception of members, statistical chart for 1902, "A Family History," our bishops' pictures, the "United Brethren Christian Endeavor Society," "Parent Board of Missions," The W. M. A., church directory, "Give Christ the Best," "Preachers and Big Words," "Briefs," "Fruit Culture Memoranda," Central College, Edwards College, College of Philomath and other matters of interest. Price twelve cents each post paid. Reduced rates when ordered by the dozen or more.

We have a few tracts on hand which treat the Sabbath question, as opposed to Saturday Sabbath keeping, by Eld. Canright. Will send three different tracts for 15 cents, post paid. Address the agent, W. H. CLAY, Huntington Ind.
