

Our Dead.

Mrs. Anna Leigh (nee) Burns was born in Camden, Oneida county, N. Y. Nov. 7, 1847, and died in Sunfield township, Eaton county, Michigan, April 23, 1905, aged 57 years, 5 months and 16 days. April 7, 1866, she was united in marriage with Charles W. Leigh of Union City, Michigan, where they resided until January, 1869, when they moved to the farm in Sunfield on which they both died, the husband having passed away February 27, 1899. To this union were born three sons and one daughter who survive to mourn their loss. Mrs. Leigh was a kind, Christian woman and died trusting in her Savior. The funeral service was held at the house, conducted by the writer, and interment was made in the beautiful Lake Side cemetery. O. LASH.

Stephen Currens of Heidlersburg, Adams county, Pa., died April 24, 1905, aged 68 years, 11 months and 11 days. He was a good citizen, and was highly respected by those who knew him. His wife departed this life seven years ago. An only daughter, with whom he made his home, and two sisters are the only survivors. The funeral was conducted by the writer and was held in the Heidlersburg U. B. church where a large congregation assembled to pay their last tribute of respect. Interment in the cemetery near by.

Marvin Aldrich Turner was born January 23, 1905, and died April 20, 1905, being 3 months old, less three days at the time of his death. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Turner of Gratiot county, Mich. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. J. Cromwell, at the home. He was an only child and they are grief-stricken. May the dear parents through the providence of God be brought to a saving knowledge of the truth as it is in Jesus, and be prepared to meet their little one in heaven.

W. J. CROMWELL.

Chester Martin Shultz, little son of Millard Shultz and wife of Franklintown, Pa., died April 14, 1905, aged six months and eleven days. He was a bright and interesting little boy, but his lot seemed to be to suffer. The tender hand of the Lord translated him to bloom on the shore of immortal glory. The funeral was held in the Franklin church, conducted by the writer. Interment in the cemetery near by. May the Lord comfort the bereaved parents and guide them in the way everlasting.

they have a continual abiding place. Father Moll died in the faith in which he had lived nearly half a century. His life and labors for the church of his choice, the United Brethren in Christ, are well known. His beneficence was unstinted; his devotion without recess; his zeal unflinching; his integrity and piety unquestionable. The biographical record of Shelby county, Ill., says of him. "He started out at eighteen years of age even with the world, his only capital being a clear brain, strong muscles, a courageous heart, and right principles, but these were worth more to him than money." The services at the house were conducted by the resident pastors of Moweaqua. The sermon was preached by the writer and the obsequies conducted by him and Rev. S. S. Sims, the pastor, at Obed station, where he was buried. The concourse would thrice have filled the house. The Moweaqua city council of which he was an ex-member came in body and the Live Stock Firm of Chicago sent two representatives to the funeral. The vacancy none can fill.

Sarah Elizabeth Mower was born Feb. 7, 1847, and died March 13, 1905, aged 58 years, 1 month and 6 days. She was married to James V. Lowder Sept. 10, 1854. She is the mother of eight children. Of this number six are living, two having preceded her to the spirit land. She and her husband lived together about forty-four years, he having departed this life about seven months ago. About two months ago she was converted, and from that time until her death she was happy in the Lord. She was deeply concerned for the salvation of her children and grandchildren. At different times she called them to her bedside and exhorted them to meet her in heaven. She loved her children and grandchildren as a mother only can. She labored and toiled for their temporal welfare, while she was able to do so, and, on her dying bed, she gave abundant evidence of deep interest in their spiritual welfare. Thus, she has left to them a legacy which is of greater value than earthly treasures. May her prayers, exhortations and entreaties fall as a benediction upon all who mourn her departure; and may they all meet her in heaven, where earth's sorrows and sufferings are not known. Funeral services were held at Mohawk, Ind.

HALLECK FLOYD.

Emily Dilley was born in Rockford, Ill., Oct. 22, 1861 and died at her home in Sebewa, Michigan, April 28, 1905, aged 43 years, 6 months and 5 days. At the age of four years she moved with her parents to Michigan where she lived until her death. She was married to William F. Sayer, Sept. 30, 1884, and to this union was born one son. The deceased leaves a husband, a son, a father, a mother, three sisters, one brother, an aged grandfather and many friends to mourn their loss. The funeral service was held at the U. B. church in Sunfield, and conducted by Rev. A. Hoffman.

President Dabney, of Cincinnati University, has positive convictions and knows how to express them. The question of the Bible in the public schools is just now a live question here. President Dabney says:

The Bible is absolutely necessary to the complete education of the human being. In rejecting it as a text-book in the public schools the American people are making a vast mistake.—Herald and Presbyterian.
