CLERICUS HOST TO HIGH SCHOOL VISITORS

Judge Not

Judge not, that ye be not judged. Matt. 7:1.

A man who jumps off a ten-story building is jumping to conclusion.

One of the gravest sins which we as Christians are likely to commit is that of criticizing our fellow men. We so often set ourselves up as examples and feel that others are failing to measure up to our ideal. We should, instead, be absolutely certain that we meet the standard of Christ.

When we see the actions of others and start to condemn, do we ever try to picture ourselves in the same circumstances to see what we might do?

Jumping to spiritual conclusions is more deadly than jumping off buildings.

Jesus said, "Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine own eye, and then thou shalt see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye."

—Prof. Norlan C. Henderson.

Huntington (66) Indiana Tech (68)

Huntington College's Foresters playing what was probably their poorest game of the season, lost an overtime tilt 68 to 66 to Indiana Tech's Engineers last Tuesday night. The game was played in the Fort Wayne Concordia gym before a sparse crowd.

The Foresters started out fast and the game took on the appearance of Huntington's earlier 20-point rout of the Engineers at Huntington. The score read 17 to 8 as the first quarter ended. Tech, however, raced right back and dumped in 19 points in the second period while the Red and Green could only muster ten.

Stoffel tossed in a field goal as the second half commenced that gave the Foresters a 29 to 27 lead, which they maintained throughout the third period, leading 42 to 40 as the final stanza got underway. The two teams battled evenly throughout the last period, until Tech grabbed the lead 55 to 54. Then Norm Cozad went to work for the Foresters and tossed in two free throws and a field goal while Tech was garnering one basket, which gave Huntington a 58 to 57 advantage with time running out. A free throw by Mileska of Tech tied the score as the game ended.

In the overtime the Engineers grabbed the lead, but a fielder by Stoffel tied it up again. Deitsch tossed in a two-pointer that won the game as Huntington's last minute rally fell short, and the final score read 68-66.

Paul Buzzard and Norm Cozad led the Foresters with 15 points each, and Stoffel and Wehr chipped in 13 and 10 respectively to help the cause. Deitsch's 22 was best for Tech.

Basketball Facts Revealed

Last Monday night the curtain rang down on another Huntington College basketball season. Playing a rough schedule for its size, Huntington managed to put together 5 wins and 16 losses for the season record. Following the final game at Bluffton, Ohio, a look at the scorebook, with an assist from an adding machine, revealed the facts and figures reproduced below.

Paul Buzzard and Norm Cozad led the Foresters in scoring with 303 and 291 points respectively. Maurice Reed followed a close third with 287 points. The meanings of the headings below are: g—games; fg—field goals; ft—free throws; fta—free throws attempted; ave—free throw shooting averages; pf—personal fouls; apg—average points per game; and tp—total points.

g	Name	fg	ft-fta	ave	pf	apg	tp
21	Paul Buzzard	112	79-125	.632	80	14.4	303

Sally Clouse

Sally Ann Clouse will be able to tell her grandchildren how it feels to be "queen for a day;" she was Homecoming Queen for 1950 at Huntington College.

Transferring here from Bowling Green State University in 1949, Sally will be graduated, with a B.S. Degree in elementary education. She had an ambition, even while attending the little red-brick school, to become a teacher in the primary grades. Next year she anticipates reaching that goal.

Sally attended school at Rockford, O., and at Wiltshire, O., from where she graduated in 1948 as Salutatorian. She was a three-year member of the high school choir and editor of the first annual to be published by the school.

At H.C., Sally has been active in W.A.A., G.V., and F.T.A. Last year she was a member of choir, president of the Girls' Dormitory, president of YWCA, and secretary of the Junior Class. She has received honorable mention each year at H.C.

Sally is a member of the United Brethren Church near Willshire and hoard of the College when she joined the church. She says, "I'm certainly glad I came to H.C. I like it here."

Library Chooses Books

An offer has been extended to the Huntington College Library by Yale U. by which a friend of Yale will pay one-half the cost of a number of books if the school library will pay the other half. Our library has chosen a dozen such books in which are included:

"The Symbols of Government" by Arnold, T. W.

"Seven Plays" by Maxim Gory.

"Soviet Scene." and Six plays of Russian Life.—both translated by A. Bakshy.

"Essays on Shakespeare & Other Elizabethans" by T. Brooks

"George Eliot. Her Life and Books" by C. Bullett

"Dante Gabriel Rossetti. A Victorian Romantic by O. Doughty

"Civilization and Climate" by E. Huntington

"Psychology and Religion" by C. B. Jung

"An Introduction to Linguistic Science" by E. H. Sturtevant

"Yankee City Series" Vol. I by Warner and Lunt entitled, "The Social Life of a Modern Community" and Vol. II by Lunt entitled, "The Status System of a Modern Community."

"Voices gay of youth and maiden echo through thy halls"—is a line in our Alma Mater proved true during the week-end of Christian Life Emphasis Week.

Some fifty to seventy-five high school fellows and girls, hailing from far and near, mostly Michigan, came to inspect our campus, while others, just alumni journeyed in order to once again pay tribute to their Alma Mater.

Throughout the week end the visitors attended the regular evening services, a movie, and a communion service. They were taken on a planned tour Saturday morning in order to become better acquainted with the campus, and on similar ones, personally conducted by various members of the Men's Dorm.

Many Make Decisions

Christian Life Emphasis Week, which was held on March 3-9, on the campus proved to be a wonderful experience to many. Rev. E. D. Ehrig of the Trinity Evangelical Congregational Church, Shamokin, Pa., brought inspiring and challenging messages.

The high point of the week was on Saturday night when Rev. Ehrig preached on "The Virgin Birth of Jesus Christ". Many decisions and commitments were made. The testimonies given proved to be a great blessing.

During the week of services, approximately twenty-five persons made public their decisions to give Christ their lives, either for the first time or in a more complete way.

After the last service Sunday night, a singspiration was held in the Men's Dormitory with singing by the college quartet. Herbert Cherry was the songleader.

A group of thirty students gave Rev. Ehrig a singing send-off at one-forty-three on Monday morning, thus showing their appreciation of his faithful ministry.

Library Committee Formulates Plans

The Student Library Committee, consisting of Carroll Fogwell, Ardyce Huffer, Joann Humbarger, Elwin Russell and Mary Towne, met recently to formulate plans for the second semester. Carroll Fogwell was elected chairman and Mary Towne secretary. Plans were made to improve the display rack and bulletin board, to dispose of scrap paper and to determine the wishes of students regarding the books they would like to have ordered.

Campus Chatter

Visitors on our campus seem to do things for certain people. At least we know now that Herb Cherry prefers blondes, and Tom Glenn was "lookin' up" as the saying goes. Who was she, Tom?

What we want to know is, what has Detroit got that Huntington College campus hasn't? I wonder if Bill DesJardins or Herb Tripp could tell us?

It was impossible not to notice that Paul Fetters was doing very well this weekend, too—two at once we noted on Sunday afternoon.

Girls of the dorm can testify to a theme song heard around there quite often—something about "Around the Kerner".

Maybe the girls' dorm ought to sponsor a few more parties. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves at the Leap Year Party—even a certain Math. Prof.

A "bird" told us that Kathy Corcoran has been admiring a certain blonde wave recently—tell us more.

Well Don, where do we go from here? Do you think Pat will be back? All your thoughts seem to be westward of late—whatcha' thinking about?

Whew! Things happen quickly around here—now we see Ray and Ardyce enjoying the services together, and the nurse and Johnny Evans "hot-rodding" around.

Carroll Fogwell

A senior on our campus born in the year of 1930, who hails from Zanesville, Ind., is Carroll Fogwell.

His hobbies are basketball and music. He is preparing to teach mathematics and Physical Education in high school. This semester he is student teaching at the Horace Mann School. He is an ardent follower of Horace Mann because of his ideal Christian teachings and standards.

Carroll chose Huntington College because of his nearness to his home and its good Christian atmosphere. He also wishes to thank the administration for their cooperation in upholding Christian principles.

Understand Leroy Sharp gave a certain girl a diamond ring recently—congratulations to you both.

As We See It

By Ham and Stoff

The very applicable words of Abe Lincoln seemed to express the relationship between the Huntington College Foresters and the teams of other schools. The referred-to words are: "With malice toward none, and with charity toward all".

Well next year we start off the schedule with a clean slate and, due to the fact that the schedule figures to be both shorter and lighter, there should be some improvement. Pardon; If there appears to be a lack of enthusiasm, but to put it in the words of the Forester mentor, Coach Baker, "It has been a long winter."

The loss to Bluffton marked the end of the season and also the playing careers of five members of the Foresters. The Red and Green will be without the services of Paul Buzzard, Norm Cozad, George Barnes, Carol Fogwell and Paul Wehr. The latter is transferring to Manchester, while June graduation is the fate of the others.

The last chance for stardom for these Huntington athletes lies, then, in the impending Baseball season, but as we glance out the window on this the 10th of March and notice that the precipitation is floating to the ground in the form of very unspringlike flakes of snow we positively know that it is "a very long winter."

Believe Me If

Believe me if all those adhering young charms
Which I view with admiring dismay,
Are going to rub off on the shoulders
dead arms
Of this suit which was just cleaned
today,

Thou wilt still be adorned with my usual zeal

My sweetheart, my loved one, my own:

But I'll sternly repress the emotions
I feel

And love you, but leave you alone.
It is not that thy beauty, is any the less,

Nor thy cheeks unaccustomed gay;
They are lovely indeed, as I gladly confess,

And I think I should leave them that way.

For the bloom of your youth isn't on very tight,

And the powder rubs off of your nose,
So my love is Platonic, my dear, for tonight,

Since these are my very best clothes.
